FULL IMMERSION IN COLORECTAL SURGERY

Technology is having an increasing impact on the future of surgery. Robotics, patient-specific 3D preoperative simulation, intraoperative augmented imaging, advanced flexible endoscopic operative platforms and tools, precise multimodal treatments, and evidence-based medicine represent the modern cornerstone of personalized surgery.

In the colorectal field, no-scar surgery through natural orifices has found the perfect match between safety, efficacy, and patient benefits, and more particularly so in rectal cancer treatment.

The IRCAD new-generation model of international education and hands-on training epitomizes the absolute best way of learning modern surgery in a safe, cost-effective, and most enjoyable way. Top surgeons from the world over openly share their expertise through live surgery, educational videos, and lectures, both online and on-site.

From 2022 onwards, IRCAD will offer further opportunities providing the first ever university diploma in minimally invasive colorectal surgery.
